Fee Paying To Precede Card Pulling

Education Majors Get Packet Today

Students who have managed to gather revenue or receive income tax returns may now give their money to the cashier for spring quarter tuition and fees.

Tuition and all other fees, or the $25 deposit and all other fees, must be paid before class cards are released. The cashier's office will accept fee payments from students two weeks prior to Feb. 29, the first day of registration.

AFTER FEB. 29, students must pay the tuition on the day he is scheduled to register. Any student who fails to pay his fees and register during his scheduled time must register after March 11 and pay the late fee.

Advancement is to be completed before class cards are pulled and will be handled by each college. As the student is advised he will be given a white sheet with a yellow carbon to fill out. The yellow carbon is to remain with the adviser and the white sheet will be given to the student and must be shown when he asks for class cards.

THOSE WHO have not declared a major will be advised by the general college. 200 Eyring Science Center, according to information given in the class schedule.

Students who are transferring from one Brigham Young University college to another must clear these changes through the admissions and registrar's offices before they can register in the new college. If this is not taken care of, students will have to register in the same colleges in which they registered winter quarter.

ADVICE schedule for the College of Education is Thursday, Feb. 18, by 10 a.m. Friday, Feb. 19, by 10 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 20, by 10 a.m. They should pick up their registration packets today.

Revolt Head Ties Views from Tunis

PARIS, Feb. 17 — (UPI) — Algerian rebel "Premier" Ferhat Abbas, leader of the Moslem revolt against the French, delivers a policy statement today in Tunis that could decide the destiny of Algeria.

Abbas was to read his "appeal" to the Europeans of Algiers around 3 to 4 p.m. (9 to 10 a.m. EST). President Charles de Gaulle called a Cabinet session at that time to hear his words.

THE FRENCH government repudiated Abbas' statement would mark the beginning of the end of the five-year-old rebellion that has cost tens of thousands of lives and billions of dollars.

It was the first made in the name of the rebel "government" since De Gaulle cracked down on Ferhat's French Rightists whom he rebuffed as the main obstacle on the path to peace.

DE GAULLE reinforced his stand today. Eight of the leaders of the Jan. 24 insurrection in Algiers charged with "attack on the state" were flown here today for trial, away from their followers in Algeria.

Among them were Right-Wing leader Alain De Serigny, editor-in-chief of the Algiers daily "Le Peuple" plus student leader Jean Jacques Susini and Pierre Perez, vice president of the "French National Front" who led the revolt at the barracks.

Perez and Susini were among 104 insurgents allowed to leave the foreign legion after the surrender. But their arrest and removal to Paris cut short speculation they had found shelter in Algeria.

This was further proof De Gaulle was now the master in Algeria. It left it up to Abbas to announce whether he was ready to take up De Gaulle's offer of a second vote to Paris to begin talks.

GEREL SPOKESMAN Mohamed Yacidi said yesterday in his Abbas would speak "in a surge of heart and reason" about his statement to the Europeans who in Algeria live in fear and anxiety and bear the brunt of colonial war.

BELLE BEAUTIES—Winners in Tuesday night's Belle of the Y beauty and personality contest were Judy Tilton, Beverly White and Colleen Redford, 1st, 2nd, 3rd.

Bev White Leads 'Belle' Competition

by Becki Fillmore
Universe Staff Writer

Winning two contests in two days was Beverly White, who last night won the beauty and personality contest of the "Belle of the Y" competition. In second and third places were Colleen Redford and Judy Tilton.

BEVERLY, who won second place in the cake-baking contest held Monday, is a junior from Bountiful, sponsored by Tau Sigma, I.K. Duchess Colleen Redford, a junior education major, is sponsored by Val Norn union unit. She is from Glenn's Ferry, Idaho. Judy Tilton, sophomore social chairman, is sponsored by Snow Hall. She is an HDFS major from Palatka, Fla. After last night's contest, first eliminations were made. All girls who do not have a chance, on the basis of points collected, of being one of the top three, were eliminated. There are 31 girls left in the contest.

THIS AFTERNOON at the Mat Dance, beginning at 4:30 p.m., the dance contest will be held. The girls will perform three dances—the waltz, cha-cha and jitterbug—with partners of their choice. Five dance teachers on campus will be judges.

While the contestants perform in one part of the hall, the regular mat dance will be held in another. Results of the contest will be announced immediately afterward.

TICKETS to the studentbody dance, "Prosperine," at which the "Belle of the Y" and her attendants will be announced, are on sale today in the Smith Family Living Center. The dance is semi-formal, strictly dry. Tickets are $1 each.

Burt Taylor will play at the Fieldhouse, Duane Crowther will perform in the SFLC and Grady Edensfield will play in the Smh, Ballroom.

Arizona Bill Starts Climb

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 17 — (UPI) — A bill covering appraisal and sale of farm land at the Arizona State Hospital for a Brigham Young University branch was passed by one Arizona State Legislature committee today.

The bill was styled temporary yesterday by one member of the House Institutions Committee when he changed his vote from "yes" to "no." The committee chairman convinced a nother committee member to change his vote to the affirmative, however, and the bill got the right votes needed for clearance.

Civil Rights Issue Hot, Negro Vote in Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 — (UPI) — Civil rights backers shifted their efforts to the Senate Rules Committee today in hope of winning approval of legislation to guarantee Negro voting rights.

Chairman Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) called a (10 a.m. EST) meeting of the rules group to consider the voting rights proposal. But there was no certainty of action today.

THE SENATE was scheduled to convene early (at 11 a.m. EST) to plow ahead with its overall civil rights debate which brought three test votes during a nine-hour session yesterday.

The official business before the Senate is an unrelated minor bill, affecting a St. Louis, Mo., school district. But Senators have been invited to make it a civil rights vehicle by attaching amendments.

SEN. KENNETH B. Keating (R-N.Y.) pro-civil rights member of the Rules Committee, predicted there was enough support in the nine-member group to approve a voting rights proposal. But he would not predict action at today's meeting.

The committee had before it a plan for federal voting registrars, advocated by the Civil Rights Commission; Attorney General William F. Rogers' proposal for a system of federal voting referees; and a bill drafted by Hennings to use the features of the two plans in a proposal for "federal enrollment officers."

BYU Gets Construction Okay: Stalling to Commence Pronto

After two and a half years of planning and hoping, KBYU, the Brigham Young University's radio station, has received notice from the Federal Communication Commission that they have granted a construction permit.

The announcement was made by Owen Rich, instructor radio speech.

IMMEDIATE CONSTRUCTION will begin on an FM station in the Eyring Science Center to install technical equipment. TU-FM will serve Utah Valley. Studios will remain next to the Speech Center.

KBYU, now a carrier current station, has served the community for the past ten years. It served the community before the campus was modernized with underground power lines. Limited facilities now prevent the station adequately serving the university, Rich said.

PROGRAMS of a musical nature will be essentially semi-classic and with a limited amount of popular music. The station anticipates the broadcasting of programs from practically all major universities in the nation by the National Association of Educational Broadcasting network, according to RADIO REPAIRMAN—KBYU radio engineer Theron Twoogood puts the finishing touches on part of the equipment being prepared for the station's return to the air.

Labor Unions Subject of Clash Monday in Smith Fieldhouse

"How Well Do Labor Unions Serve the Public Interest?" will be the subject of a debate to be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

Representing organized labor in this discussion will be Fred C. Pieper, Denver, regional director of AFL-CIO Region 19 (Colorado, Wyoming and Utah). Ross Thorsen, Salt Lake City, manager of the Industrial Relations Council of Utah and a national leader in the field of labor law, will speak from the standpoint of business management.

THE DEBATE is open to the public. There will be no admission charge and no reserved seats.

The debate is under the sponsorship of the BYU Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity. Dr. Ariel S. Ballif, professor of sociology and foreign students adviser at BYU, is president of the chapter.

"AS UTAH returns to work after strikes of record length in two of her basic industries," Dr. Ballif said; "men and women in all walks of life are thinking and talking more earnestly than ever before about the impact of labor management differences upon the lives of all of us."

"Yet much of this thinking and talking is emotional, insufficiently informed and excessively partisan, throwing heat but not light on this already vexed vital subject," he continued.

After each of the two speakers has developed a position and then reacted informally to the remarks of the other, both men will respond to written questions from the audience.

Worlton to Lecture Thursday On Lamb's Ultrasonic Theory

Daniel C. Worlton will use as his topic, "Lamb's Waves at Ultrasonic Frequencies" Thursday at 11 a.m. in 235 Eyring Science Center. The speaker is the manager of testing methods operation of General Electric Company in Richland.

HIS TALK WILL concern a theory formulated in 1916 by Horace Lamb predicting that plates may vibrate up to an infinite number of modes. The theory has been experimentally confirmed.

MEASUREMENTS made on finite plates and curved objects reveal that in each case the wave phase velocity to frequency and plate thickness in terms of longitudinal and shear wave velocity.

Curves relating phase velocity to the product of frequency and plate thickness are obtained for aluminum, zirconium, stainless steel, brass and uranium.

The distinguishing characteristics of the various modes will be discussed in the light of non-destructive testing application.

AFTER SERVING in the Armed Forces from 1942 to 1946, where he served in the electronic and radar fields, Worlton entered the University of Utah in 1948.

He is presently serving as manager of the Testing Methods

Operation, group primarily devoted to the solution of non-destructive testing problems associated with the nuclear industry.

IOC Court to Try Goldbricker Under Geographic Club

One of the most unusual stunts for rushees was staged yesterday morning by Val Norn. The rushees were required to wear heels and hose to an early morning muster. When the girls arrived at 5 a.m., they were told to get a date and return for a dance within a half hour.

OTHER ACTIVITIES FOR Val Norn rushees including bringing the alumni file up to date and this is quite a job, as the Val Norna date back to 1927.

One thing can be said of the VN rushees: they have unity. Last Thursday night the new pledges kidnapped the Val Norn officers and dropped them off in Rock Canyon.

SAVING TRADING STAMPS is one thing, but when you manage to collect 11 million of them, this is something to talk about. In the Feb. 8 issue of Life magazine there is a one page story and picture concerning the St. Francis Parish School right here in Provo.

It seems that for four years the Provo school had to keep repairing their school buses. The full impact of the need wasn't realized until one day, when Father Collyty, parish priest, was riding in the bus, and the front wheel collapsed.

This started things moving. Father Collyty wrote the Gold Strike Trading Stamp Co. and inquired about the possibility of receiving a school bus for trading stamps.

THERE WERE NO buses listed in the catalogue, but the company assured Father Collyty that something could be arranged.

Parish mothers started a stamp campaign that not only got Gold Strike stamps but also S & H Stamps. S & H said that they would give two buses for 6,424 books. When the parish mothers heard this, they really started to push their campaign. They wrote parochial schools all over the United States and asked for stamps so they could get new buses to take their children to school. The response was tremendous and in just four months, they had received a total of 11,500,000 stamps, taking 9,572 books.

The mothers didn't stop pushing. They pasted all the stamps in books. When the stamps were traded the parish ended up with three new buses to take their children to school, and it didn't cost them a cent.

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of three articles by jazz guitarist Barney Kessel appearing in the Daily Universe. It deals with laying the foundation of a library of jazz recordings. This issue is presented by Key Musical Co., Chicago, makers of Ray Kessel guitars.

by Barney Kessel

Continued in this column is the list of records which I would suggest as good starters for a well-rounded jazz record collection.

ON SOME OF the records, I give the title and artist, and the specific record company and master number.

On some records, I have had to be more vague, because I do not have the specific information. Please keep in mind that in many instances, records first put out by one company were later sold to another company, or re-released on a subsidiary label of the original company.

WHAT'S MORE, MASTER numbers may have changed through the years and the record may appear in several different packaged forms. The result of all this is: you may have to do some detective work till you find the exact record you want!

Let me make one suggestion, however: With so many new record releases coming out daily, it is well to check catalogues of all the record companies to see if some of the records you want have been released on LP records.

THIS WOULD BE a better buy than the old 78 r.p.m. discs, insuring against breakage and frequently giving you better sound than the old record had.

UTAH'S little sharp shooter, Joe Morton, is hitting at a .566 clip from the field and Vince Ignatovich has hit 14 of 15 tries from the free throw line for leadership in their respective categories.

Steinke Paces Frosh Scoring Attack

by Ken Morrison
Universe Sports Writer

The name Steinke is once again calling attention to BYU basketball. After ten games, frosh ace Ron Steinke is leading the Kitten squad in scoring with an 18 point per game average.

THE 5'10" guard from West Jordan is a brother of Tom Steinke, former all-conference and little All-America guard for the Cougars. Tom is now assisting mentor Pete Witbeck in coaching the freshman team.

Ron hit 25 points to lead his club in drubbing the USU Ramblers last Saturday, 85-66. He accounts for much of his scoring ability with a sensational but unusual jump shot from way outside. He also has a good driving shot.

THE COUGAR yearlings have no games scheduled this week but will be working hard for their contest with the Utah Paipooses Feb. 25 on the home court. They downed the Ute fledglings 82-78 in Salt Lake last month.

Saturday's win over the Ramblers was the third straight for the Kittens. It gave them a sparkling 7-3 mark for the season. They have only two more games scheduled. Besides Utah, they meet Ricks College on Feb. 27, also in Provo.

DEPTH DOESN'T seem to be a problem for the Kittens this season. Two players besides Steinke are averaging in the double figures while several others have good scoring ability and all-around play when called upon.

Jim Kelson is averaging 17.5 per game and Bruce Burton is hitting 14.8 a game. Kelson has a sizzling short jumper. Burton, a southpaw, has a variety of shots but gets a lot of tips. He is also developing a difficult-to-defend hook shot.

THE OTHER frosh starters,

Gary Batchelor and Kirby McMaster, are averaging 8.3 and 7.6 points per game, respectively. Batchelor continues red-hot at the free-throw line with 23 of 28 attempts this season for 20 percent accuracy. As a team, the Kittens are averaging 85.5 points to the opponents' 68.6 per contest.

RED HOT RON—Steinke is currently leading the BYU frosh with an 18 point average. He tanked 25 points against Utah State University in last Saturday's game.
